DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim recitation "less than 10% tackifier by weight" is indefinite. It is unclear what the percentage is based upon.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Koizumi et al. US 6,491,992 or Bowser 4,215,164 or Kaeding US 5,855,972 each taken alone and in the alternative.

Koizumi et al. shows adhesive compositions useful in glass insulating applications. These compositions are based on a polymeric resin material, col. 4, lines 13+. The claimed crosslinker is shown at col. 8, lines 56+. The combination of adhesion promoters is suggested by the disclosure at col. 7, lines 53+ and the examples. It is acknowledged that the examples incorporate 50 parts of tackifier are shown in the examples. The limitation of less than 10% tackifier is obvious because it is obvious to reduce or eliminate an ingredient and lose its known function. In view of this disclosure, the claims are rendered prima facie obvious.

Art Unit: 1713

Bowser shows adhesive compositions useful in glass insulating applications. These compositions are based on a polymeric resin material, col. 2, lines 63+. The claimed crosslinker is rendered by the disclosure at col. 5, lines 10+. The combination of adhesion promoters is rendered obvious by the disclosure at col. 5, lines 47+. The addition of conventional functional additives is rendered obvious by the disclosure at col. 5, lines 17+. This patent does not direct one to add more than 10% tackifier.

Kaeding shows adhesive compositions useful in glass insulating applications. These compositions are based on a polymeric resin material, col. 4, lines 31+. The claimed crosslinker is rendered by the disclosure at col. 14, lines 55+. The combination of adhesion promoters is rendered obvious by the disclosure at col. 5, lines 29+. The addition of conventional functional additives is rendered obvious by the disclosure at col. 3, lines 39+. It is acknowledged that the examples and disclosure teach the incorporation of greater than 10% tackifier. The limitation of less than 10% tackifier is obvious because it is obvious to reduce or eliminate an ingredient and lose its known function.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of copending Application No. 10/744,748. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because there is no tackifier in the copending claims.

Art Unit: 1713

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
